Acquisition enhances Abbott's position in Latin America, more than doubling its branded generics pharmaceutical sales and presence in the fast-growing region

ABBOTT PARK, Ill., Sept. 26, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Abbott (NYSE: ABT) has acquired control of CFR Pharmaceuticals, more than doubling its Latin American branded generics pharmaceutical presence and further expanding the company's presence in fast-growing markets. Through purchase of the controlling interest and tender offers described below, Abbott indirectly acquired more than 99 percent of CFR's ordinary shares for approximately $2.9 billion.

"By adding CFR's portfolio of well-known, trusted products, Abbott has taken another key step in actively shaping its portfolio to better meet the evolving needs of health care and drive sustainable growth," said Miles D. White, chairman and chief executive officer, Abbott.

The CFR acquisition immediately establishes Abbott among the top 10 pharmaceutical companies in Latin America, a market that is expected to reach $124 billion by 2018, with estimated annual growth rates of two to three times that of developed markets over the coming years, according to IMS.

This transaction will not impact Abbott's ongoing earnings-per-share guidance for 2014.

Abbott anticipates this transaction to be accretive to ongoing earnings per share in 2015 and increasing thereafter, before one-time transaction-related items which will be provided at a later date.
